THE AMERICAN ACADEMY OF ARTS AND LETTERS ANNOUNCES
2010 MUSIC AWARD WINNERS

Sixteen Composers Receive Awards Totaling $170,000

New York, March 4, 2010—The American Academy of Arts and Letters announced today the sixteen recipients of this year's awards in music, which total $170,000. The winners were selected by a committee of Academy members: Robert Beaser (chairman), Bernard Rands, Gunther Schuller, Steven Stucky, and Yehudi Wyner. The awards will be presented at the Academy's annual Ceremonial in May. Candidates for music awards are nominated by the 250 members of the Academy.

ACADEMY AWARDS IN MUSIC
Four composers will each receive a $7500 Academy Award in Music, which honors outstanding artistic achievement and acknowledges the composer who has arrived at his or her own voice. Each will receive an additional $7500 toward the recording of one work. The winners are Daniel Asia, David Felder, Pierre Jalbert, and James Primosch.

Wladimir and Rhoda Lakond Award
The Wladimir and Rhoda Lakond award of $10,000 is given to a promising mid-career composer. This year the award will go to James Lee III.

Goddard Lieberson Fellowships
Two Goddard Lieberson fellowships of $15,000, endowed in 1978 by the CBS Foundation, are given to mid-career composers of exceptional gifts. This year they will go to Philippe Bodin and Aaron J. Travers.

Walter Hinrichsen Award
Paula Matthusen will receive the Walter Hinrichsen Award for the publication of a work by a gifted composer. This award was established by the C. F. Peters Corporation, music publishers, in 1984.

Charles Ives Fellowships
Harmony Ives, the widow of Charles Ives, bequeathed to the Academy the royalties of Charles Ives' music, which has enabled the Academy to give the Ives awards in music since 1970. Two Charles Ives Fellowships, of $15,000 each, will be awarded to Anna Clyne and Michael Djupstrom.

Charles Ives Scholarships
Shawn Brogan Allison, Jesse Benjamin Jones, Eric Nathan, Clint Needham, Jude Vaclavik, and Roger Zare will receive Charles Ives Scholarships of $7,500, given to composition students of great promise.
THE ACADEMY

The American Academy of Arts and Letters was founded in 1898 to "foster, assist, and sustain an interest in literature, music, and the fine arts." Each year, the Academy honors over 50 composers, artists, architects, and writers with cash awards ranging from $5000 to $75,000. Other activities of the Academy are exhibitions of art, architecture, and manuscripts; purchases of art for donations to museums; publications on the Academy's history and events; publications on the Academy's history and readings and performances of new musicals. The Academy is located in three landmark buildings designed by McKim, Mead & White, Cass Gilbert, and Charles Pratt Huntington on Audubon Terrace at 155 Street and Broadway.

Biographies of 2010 Award Winners in Music

Shawn Brogan Allison (Charles Ives Scholarship) has had his music performed by eighth blackbird, the International Contemporary Ensemble (ICE), The Esoterics, Cantus, the Cornell Chorale; and his work will be heard this summer at the Tanglewood and June in Buffalo Festivals. His honors and awards include a Jacob K. Javits Fellowship, the 2009 Polyphonos competition (U.S. Composer category), and the Jerome Commissioning Competition, as well as funding from the New York State Council on the Arts, the University of Chicago Council on the Arts, and the Cornell Council for the Arts. He is currently a doctoral student at the University of Chicago, where he has studied with Shulamit Ran and Marta Ptaszynska. Originally from Newport News, VA, he holds degrees in composition and saxophone performance from St. Olaf College (B.M.) and Ithaca College (M.M.), studying with Dana Wilson, Timothy Mahr, and Peter Hamlin.

Daniel Asia has been an eclectic composer from the start. He has enjoyed grants from Meet the Composer, a UK Fulbright award, Guggenheim Fellowship, MacDowell and Tanglewood fellowships, DAAD Fellowship, Copland Fund grants, NEA, Koussevitsky Foundation, and Fromm Foundation. From 1991-1994 he was Composer-in-Residence with the Phoenix Symphony, and from 1977-1995 Music Director of the New York-based contemporary ensemble Musical Elements. He has been Professor of Music at the University of Arizona since 1988. Asia’s five symphonies have received wide acclaim from live performances and their international recordings. Under a recent Barlow Endowment grant, he is presently writing for The Czech Nonet, the longest continuously performing chamber ensemble on the planet, founded in 1924. The recorded works of Daniel Asia may be heard on the labels of Summit, New World, and Albany.

Philippe Bodin (Lieberson Fellowship) was born in France and has lived in the US since 1997. He earned a D.M.A. in composition from Yale University where he studied with Martin Bresnick and Nicholas Maw. A finalist in the 2007 America Composers Orchestra Underwood Readings, he has received prizes, awards, grants, and residencies in the United States from the Barlow Endowment, American Composers Forum, Jerome Foundation, Utah Arts Festival, American Music Center, MacDowell Colony, and Yaddo, and abroad from the Lutoslawski, Anglo-Comneno, and Homage to Mozart competitions. He has been commissioned by the Da Capo Chamber Players, the Orkest de Volharding, Electra; the Eroica Trio, Mannes Trio, Mojave Trio, and Kungsbacka trio, Left Coast, Empyrean, TM +, and Voxabulaire. His work has been performed for Los Angeles’s Monday Evening Concerts, the Asia Pacific Festival, and various festivals and venues in Europe.

Anna Clyne (Charles Ives Fellowship), a London native, is a composer of acoustic and electro-acoustic music. Her work, which includes collaborative projects with cutting-edge choreographers, film-makers, visual artists and musicians, has been commissioned and performed worldwide. Recent honors include commissions from Carnegie Hall, Los Angeles Philharmonic, Roulette/Jerome Foundation, awards from ASCAP and SEAMUS, performances by Sentieri Selvaggi, the American Composers Orchestra, Minnesota Orchestra; and a residency with the Los Angeles-based Hysterica Dance Company. In Fall 2010, she will begin a two-year residency with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra as Mead Composer in Residence. Her music has been composed for and programmed by such artists as Alex Ross, Esa-Pekka Salonen, ETHEL and BalletX. Anna Clyne holds a Bachelor of Music degree with honors from Edinburgh University and a Master of Music degree from the Manhattan School of Music. She resides in New York City, and her music is published by Boosey & Hawkes.

Michael Djupstrom (Charles Ives Fellowship) has been recognized through honors and awards from such institutions as the American Academy of Arts and Letters, the American Composers Forum, the Chinese Fine Arts Society, and the Académie musicale de Villecroze, among many others. His compositions have been performed across the United States as well as in Europe and Asia. Djupstrom was born in St. Paul, Minnesota in 1980, and began piano lessons at the age of eight. He studied music composition at the University of Michigan, where he earned his undergraduate and graduate degrees. He was a fellow at the Tanglewood Music Center, the Aspen Music Festival, and the Brevard Music Center, and has studied in Paris with composer Betsy Jolas. He lives in Philadelphia, where he teaches piano at Settlement Music School and courses in music theory and orchestration for Boston University’s online programs in music.
