TWO MUSICALS WIN 2010 COMPETITION

New York, February 9, 2010 – Winners of the 2010 Richard Rodgers Awards for Musical Theater were announced today by the American Academy of Arts and Letters, which administers the Rodgers Awards.

They are:

Buddy's Tavern by Raymond De Felitta, Alison Louise Hubbard, and Kim Oler

Rocket Science by Patricia Cotter, Jason Rhyne, and Stephen Weiner

The two works were awarded staged readings.

The intent of the Richard Rodgers Award is to nurture the careers of talented composers and playwrights by enabling their musicals to be produced in New York City. Former award recipients include Maury Yeston, Nine; Jonathan Larson, Rent; Julie Taymor and Elliot Goldenthal, Juan Darien; Lynn Ahrens and Stephen Flaherty, Lucky Stiff; and Jeanine Tesori and Brian Crawley, Violet. Since 1980 sixty-eight works have received Rodgers awards.

This year's jury included Stephen Sondheim (chair), Lynn Ahrens, John Guare, Sheldon Harnick, David Ives, Richard Maltby, Jr., Lin-Manuel Miranda, Jeanine Tesori, and John Weidman.

Buddy's Tavern, based upon the film Two Family House, set in the 1950s, tells the story of an Italian-American factory worker on Staten Island, and his quest to run his own business – a bar where he can sing his heart out to his customers. Family pressures, race relations, unexpected love, and the struggle to achieve one's dreams, come alive in this new romantic musical comedy.

Rocket Science, based on the HBO movie by Jeffrey Blitz, tells the tale of sixteen-year-old Hal Hefner, life-long stutterer and oddball, and his determination to risk everything for love. Hal enters the world of high school speech and debate and learns what it means to find one's true voice.

Richard Rodgers, elected to the Academy in 1955, endowed these awards in 1978. The awards provide financial support for productions, studio productions, and staged readings of original musicals by nonprofit theaters in New York City.

The Richard Rodgers Awards are the Academy's only awards for which applications are accepted. Applications for the Richard Rodgers Awards may be downloaded from www.artsandletters.org.
